Howe begins at 8

Arriving by foot or car or trolley a Howeite starts his day. Before 8:00 friends meet in the parking lot where the main topic of conversation is cars. Between 8:00 and 8:15 upperclassmen gather in the alcove inside the main entrance to discuss activities and compare notes. Many dash through the halls, scurrying to make their first class before the tardy bell at 8:15. This accomplished, everyone settles down to another day of classes—from metal shop to French, from art to bookkeeping.

UPPER RIGHT—Vince Greiner, Donna Willenberg and Eleanor Whitely examine mementoes of Howe's ground breaking.

BOTTOM—This Howeite starts the day "bright" by welding.

New wing adds glamour

This 1954-55 school year witnessed the dedication of the new $700,000 wing. This addition provides the extra space which Howe has needed for a long time. Besides new classrooms for English, math, and social studies, new department offices and beautiful music rooms were added.

In the main building a new student administration office took the place of the old art room. And a public address system was installed throughout the school.

Although Mrs. Mabel Burkart, bookstore manager, didn't like the idea of moving the bookstore to a new location, she now agrees that she has more space and conveniences. Mr. Alvin Geier, junior-senior counselor, was in favor of the moving though, since the old bookstore offered a better location for his office.

RIGHT—Attendance problems claim the attention of Mrs. Mildred Loew and Mrs. Christianna Genrich. BOTTOM LEFT—Mr. Geier gives college advice to Nancy Zobbe. BOTTOM RIGHT—Steve Fittz buys his books from Mrs. Burkart.

Classes — classes — classes. The most vital part of the school program is the classroom. Besides the three R's, better than 53 other courses are offered at Howe. These are divided among required and elective subjects. Elective courses include art, music, languages, home economics, and industrial arts. These classes not only widen the students' interests, but they add variety to the graduation requirements.

TOP — These future homemakers learn the art of cutting dress patterns.

BOTTOM — Girls in home nursing practice methods used in caring for the sick.

From required

Prospective artists and craftsmen as well as those who just enjoy sketching are enrolled in the art department. These Howites are practicing figure drawing while a fellow student poses.

The business education department offers comptometry, bookkeeping, and office procedures besides the usual typing and shorthand. Here a class in comptometry works on the four positions.

"Who was our first Secretary of State?"
"What was the Teapot Dome Scandal?"
These are just two of the questions answered in U. S. history classes. Other subjects in the social studies department are government, psychology, and family relations.

The three years of required English include not only a study of grammar, but also composition (right).

A visitor to a plane geometry class (above) might hear this—"equal angles are equal." Advanced courses in the math department are Algebra III and IV, solid geometry and trigonometry.

Formulas are one of the biggest problems in chemistry, while biology students put together "dem bones." Incidentally, these classes work with Fifi, the skeleton.

Politics come to Howe each fall when social studies classes divide into Nationalist and Federalist parties to conduct mock elections on city, county, and state levels. Below

Weeks before the actual voting, parties begin holding caucuses. An early morning convention of each party sees the nomination of candidates for state offices. For the next several days campaign promises and posters take the spotlight. The big day arrives, and history and government students vote for their favorite candidates.

Not only are procedures of elections studied at this time, but students also learn to use an actual voting machine.

Although the Federalists had strong candidates and good campaign promises, the Nationalists seemed to suit the voters better for they made a clean sweep of the election.

Food and fun add flavor

Rarely does an assembly not fall on Wednesday. Traditional assemblies include a Christmas program given by the Music Department and Honors Day in the spring. The many others range from pep sessions to symphony concerts.

The school day at Howe isn't all work. Besides a place to eat lunch, the cafeteria offers a meeting spot to exchange gossip and relax between classes, while the latest records provide a musical background for the four lunch periods of 1460 Howeites.

Honors highlight school year

Each year the local Irvington chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution presents an award to Howe's outstanding senior girl. On the basis of scholarship, citizenship, and leadership, Susan Stirling was chosen by the senior class and the faculty to receive this award.

The seniors also selected Susan as Howe's representative to visit the UN in October along with representatives of the other city high schools. Susan spent several days in New York watching the UN in action. On her return, she spoke to the student body over the PA system, telling of her experiences.

Susan and Jack Austin won the 1954 American Legion Good Citizenship Award. This award, presented by the Irvington post, is given to the outstanding junior girl and boy for citizenship, scholarship, and leadership. The junior class and the faculty choose the recipients of the award. Their names are engraved on a plaque which hangs in the main hall. It has been a tradition that the two welcome the incoming freshmen of the following fall semester.

King for an afternoon

Candidates Mike Smith, Bill French, Bob Bell, Bob Little, and King Dave Stewart pause for refreshments at intermission time. Because of a reserve basketball game Dick Patterson, Ronnie Heath, and Jack Burgan were not able to be present.

Royalty doesn't belong only to the feminine sex of Howe. Once a year the boys are in the regal spotlight. On December 17 Howeites attending the Winter Wonderland Dance saw Dave Stewart crowned Winter Wonderland King. The afternoon dance is sponsored by the G.A.A. and Lettermen's Club. Each class nominates two candidates and the entire school votes for the king.

At the climax of the dance the long awaited announcement of Brown Boy and Golden Girl is made by Mr. Stirling. Pat Kerby (third from right) learns that she has been chosen 1954-55 Golden Girl.

Sharing Pat's happiness are Brown Boy Don Layton, and candidates Corann McCawley, Phil Strader, Barbara Vogel, Bubby Oilar, Sandy Fotiades, and Dick Patterson.

Brown and Gold tops all

At the fourteenth annual Brown and Gold dance sponsored by the HILLTOPPER staff, both junior and senior classes were represented in the honored positions of Brown Boy and Golden Girl. Senior Don Layton was Brown Boy and junior Pat Kerby was Golden Girl. Eight candidates, four juniors and four seniors, were nominated by the upperclassmen and were announced on September 22, during the annual assembly program given by the staff.

A record-breaking crowd danced to the music of Carl Kiefer's orchestra from 9:00 to 12:00 P.M.

The new Brown Boy and Golden Girl celebrate by leading off the first dance after intermission.

Senior Hi-Y plans and sponsors informal record dances after the basketball games as well as their Sweetheart Dance. Programs for Hi-Y's Tuesday night meetings were given by Mr. Richard Guyer and Mr. Forest Witsman.

Officers are Hoyt Miller, president; Fred Peggs, vice president; Roger Cox, secretary; John Babcock, treasurer; and Bob Doyal, chaplain.

Mr. Victor Heniser is the sponsor.

Hi-Y crowns its Valentine

Members of the Beta Hi-Y checked coats at school functions throughout the year. There were panel discussions and other activities to keep them busy at meetings. A weiner roast with the Senior Hi-Y closed their program for the year.

Officers for the year are Mike Grove, president; Gary VanWey, vice president; Gordon Dixon, secretary; and Gene Ross, chaplain. Their sponsor is Mr. Robert Latherow.

May 28 marks the anniversary of Howe's ground breaking. Legends are told about a Queen of the Violets and of children who came to gather violets from what was called Violet Hill. After the building was finished, her spirit remained and each year she comes visibly into the midst of the student body to remind the students of their past and request their appreciation and loyalty.

Each year a philosopher is chosen from the Senior HI-Y to review the highlights of the year. In 1954 Philosopher Hoyt Miller welcomed the queen and her court.

Candidates for queen were chosen from the Vihota Club members. From the seven candidates Barbara Shortridge was elected by the student body to reign as Queen of the Violets.

Tradition lives on

Howeites like variety

A familiar sight to Howeites and the surrounding community is Howe's tower. Not only is this a trademark of the school, but students approaching campus from the north can always tell if they're on time by its large clock. Useful as well as ornamental, the tower once housed the publications offices. Since the addition of the new wing it now holds the foreign language office.

A variation of the routine regular school day is a fire drill. This is one drill that the students welcome, especially in fair weather—more so if it breaks up a dull class. However, fire and air raid drills are not scheduled for class breaks. Their function is to prepare students and faculty to meet possible emergencies.

MIDDLE—Cheerleaders Jacque Wooden and Martie Dorsett practice new yells in the gym lobby.

BOTTOM—Howeites get in extra licks on their assignments during the 9th period as they wait for after school activities.

Howeites participate in many activities after the regular school day. Interest clubs, such as the Latin Club, and small music groups help fill these hours.

One night a year girls have a chance to treat the man of their choice at the Spring Dance, sponsored by the Hilltopper staff.

Cheerleaders offer their talents by leading the spectators in athletic events and pep sessions. Jacque Wooden joined the other city high schools' representatives in cheering Attucks on to the 1955 state basketball title.

Susan Stirling experiments with the ink blot test on subjects Jo Ann Hartley, Donna Willenberg, Sue Huffman, Eleanor Whitely and Linda French.

Curtain time! "The Little Dog Laughed" was presented by the seniors on the nights of April 28 and 29. This comedy was written by Vera and Ken Tarpley, and Mr. Darrell Gooch was the director.

The plot involves Laurie, a college girl, all wrapped up in the subject of psychology. Laurie comes home on vacation and decides her family is a bunch of "psychological knots." She sets about trying to solve their problems.

Laurie's family turns the tables on her and pulls some "psychological" experiments of their own.

Laurie learns a good lesson from her family and all ends well at the final curtain.

Howe's program of sports provides for competition, strength of character, and good sportsmanship. Sport highlights of the year included the City Football Jamboree, the Basketball Sectionals, and the Howe-sponsored Hoosier Relays at Indiana University.

SECOND ROW—Bondy, Johnson, Whitaker, Jester, Parks, Heath, Brown, K. Stewart.

Hornets buzz through 6-2-1 season

Howe's varsity gridiron squad, led by city scoring champ Cliff Oilar, sported a 6-2-1 record this year. Losing only to Tech and Broad Ripple and tying Columbus, the Hornetmen ran wild over the rest of their opposition. Oilar's 139 points gave him the new city scoring record and placed him third in the state. Also important were the fine passing and quarterbacking of Bob Little, the running of backs Kent Stewart, Don King, and Dave Stewart, and the blocking of Phil Strader, Dave Propps, and Dick Van Arsdel.

Parker chosen grid queen

Bubby Oilar carries the ball while Phil Strader and Don King clear a path.

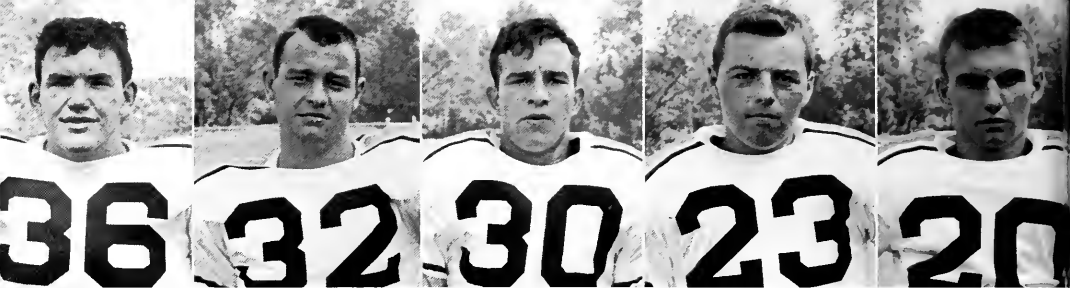

Caroline Parker reigned as the 1954 football queen. Chosen by the student body from six candidates, the queen was crowned at the Howe-Manual game by Dave Propps and Bubby Oilar.

Opening the '54 season with a heartbreaking one point loss to Tech, Howe then proceeded to clobber Attucks, Manual and Noblesville. A tough loss to Broad Ripple followed. After tying Columbus the team rolled over Anderson and Warren Central.

Howe's best game of the year was against Washington. Recovering two fumbles deep in the opponent's territory, the Hornets led 14-7 at the half. Turned back twice at Howe's goal line, the Continentals finally completed a pass to tie the score. However, returning the kickoff to the Hornet thirty yard line, Little threw a long pass to Oilar who outraced the defense for the winning touchdown. Final score: Howe 28-Washington 14.

Oliar who is only a junior was named to everybody's all-city team and also made the all-state team. He was voted the Most Valuable Player while Kent Stewart received the Best Mental Attitude Award; Dave Propps and Phil Strader were chosen team co-captains.

Harriers face rough opposition in 1954

Howe's cross-country team, under the guidance of Coach Ray Bowman, ended their fall, 1954, season with a won-two, lost-six record.

For the twelfth year Howe played host to the Marion County invitational meet. This season our harriers finished fourth, scoring 117 points.

Net Squad Wins 12

With only three returning lettermen from last year's team, Howe's varsity basketball squad won 12 and lost 9 games this year. This record was compiled against a very rugged schedule as the bucketmen played seven of the first ten teams in the state. This year's starting five was composed of the mainstays of the undefeated freshman team of three years ago.

Coach Forest Witsman started the season by using a zone defense against Washington. This was a surprise to everyone, especially the Continentals, as they were easily defeated. He continued using this defense through most of the season and it was responsible for many of the Hornets' victories.

Also important was the team's balanced scoring attack. Mike Leffler led the team in scoring with Don Layton only a few points behind. When Leffler or Layton faltered, Kurt Kollmeyer or Howard Glotfelty was there to take up the slack. The boys on the bench did a fine job of filling in for the starters when they became tired or had too many fouls.

A good example of the team's bench strength was shown during the sectionals. During practice, Layton injured his ankle and was unable to play. Kent Stewart and Jim Schneider did a fine job of filling in for him as Howe defeated Southport. That night Bubby Oilar played an excellent game, subbing for Layton, but Tech won.

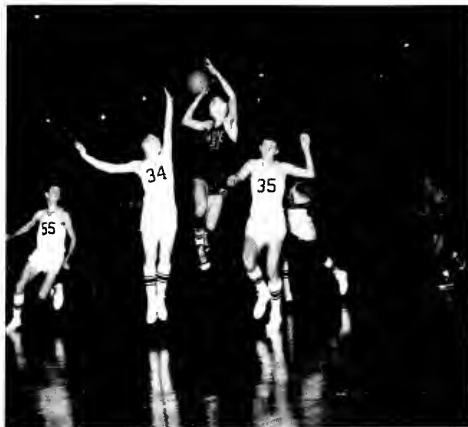

At the annual banquet honoring the players, Leffler received the Most Valuable Player Award. Kollmeyer received the Kiwanis Best Mental Attitude Award, and Layton was elected captain for the year.

It was a close race when sophomore Joan Reed was chosen Howe's 1955 basketball queen. The crowning ceremonies took place at the Howe-New Albany game. Don Layton crowned Joan, but Mike Leffler had the pleasure of kissing her.

Howe's golf team, coached by Mr. Fred Lemley, won seven of twelve scheduled meets and took second place in the sectional, which they had won in 1953.

Howe also took fourth place in the state meet losing by only four strokes.

The divot diggers won the annual Batesville tourney with a team score of 315. Second place team was Martinsville with a score of 328.

Besides playing golf in the spring and early summer, the team usually has one or two fall meets scheduled. During the '54 season Howe participated in the fall city-county golf tourney at Coffin Golf Course. Of the ten teams participating Howe won second place, losing only to Shortridge, the state champions.

Diamond squad wins 7

Howe's varsity baseball team sported a 7 won, 10 lost record for the '54 season. Highlights of the schedule were close victories over Manual, Attucks, and Washington respectively. On the other hand, Franklin Township and Cathedral proved easy games for the squad. Perhaps the most thrilling contest of the year was a one-run loss to Ben Davis, which took 13 innings to determine the winner.

Dale Davis was the team's leading hitter with a .377 average. Mike Leffler was the leading pitcher with four of Howe's seven victories to his credit.

Davis shows VonBurg and Billingsley the batting stance which enabled him to lead the team at bat with a .377 average.

I-M offers sports for all

Mr. Alvin Geier supervises the intramural sports program, which provides intraschool competition for approximately 400 boys not on regular athletic teams.

In the winter Mr. Geier organizes a schedule of play for basketball. Teams are divided into two groups, freshmen-sophomore, and junior-senior leagues, to make competition more equal. The championship team in each league meets in the playoff game prior to the senior-faculty basketball game.

In the spring, baseball, golf, badminton, ping-pong, bowling, shuffleboard and volley ball predominate on the intramural program. Winners in each sport are presented medals at the spring athletic banquet.

Managers assist coaches

With the six varsity and ten reserve and freshman teams, Mr. Lyman Combs needs much help checking out all the athletic equipment and keeping it in good shape. The student managers work every night after school caring for equipment and helping to treat athletic injuries in the training room when Mr. Combs is busy. The managers are on hand at athletic contests with water and towels and other needs of the athletes. Senior Fritz Leucht is the chief student manager and overseer of the other managers.

Cindermen Win Sectional

Coach Ray Bowman's varsity track squad climaxed their 1954 season by winning the Sectional at Washington. This is the fourth sectional Howe has won in the last six years.

The spikesters had a very good season, winning eight of their 10 meets and winning four events in the Howe sponsored Hoosier Relays at Indiana University in March of 1954.

Harold Kouns represented Howe well in the State meet by taking second place in the broad jump. Kouns had a jump of 22'6"

New sponsor, new activities

G.A.A. is participating in many interesting activities this year including bowling, volley ball, basketball, track, badminton, speedball, softball, recreational sports, and swimming at the Y.W.C.A.

A new feature has been added to their curriculum this year. Schools throughout the state are invited to a play day. Teams are set up with one girl from each school on each team. Teams then compete in such events as tumbling, basketball, and relays.

Accompanying and instructing the participants is the new G.A.A. sponsor, Mrs. Betty Burton.

bring new look to G. A. A.

Every year on the Friday before Christmas vacation, G.A.A. and the Lettermen's Club sponsor the Winter Wonderland Dance. Dave Stewart was crowned Winter Wonderland King at this year's afternoon hop.

In the spring the annual G.A.A. banquet is held. Members then receive their awards which are given on the basis of points earned by participation in G.A.A. events. The awards are emblem, letter, sweater and, the highest award, a wall plaque. In the spring of 1954 Janice Brown and Dale Penn were, for the first time in Howe's history, awarded this plaque.

At the end of each year a nominating committee is selected at large from the G.A.A. group to chose nominees for president for the coming year. All the girls in the student body vote for one of the three girls selected.

A feminine touch was added to the R.O.T.C. unit by the sponsors and the girls' drill team. Organized by the Student Council, the drill team was under the direction of M/SGT. S. R. Mossbarger.

R.O.T.C. sponsors for this year were Irene Allison, Susie Brothers, Caroline Parker, and Sally Shake. Irene was Honorary Battalion Commander. The girls inspected the unit and marched in parades.

Howe's first R.O.T.C. sponsors Sally Shake, Caroline Parker, Irene Allison, and Susie Brothers model their new uniforms.

Military Added to Howe

On Thursdays and Fridays it is very easy to tell what new course is being offered at Howe, since R.O.T.C. uniforms are worn those days. This is Howe's first year to offer R.O.T.C. to the boys. Cadets march and drill on the campus, practice on the rifle range, and study army life.

A color guard was organized to present the colors at assemblies and athletic events, and to march at the head of R.O.T.C. parades.

Four rifle matches were held at Howe in February. Howe placed fifth in city competition.

M/Sgt. S. R. Mossbarger and Sgt. G. B. Harstad are in charge of the unit.

The colors are presented by the R.O.T.C. colorguard at a night football game.

Staging the one-act play "Antic Spring" in the City Drama Festival, held at Manual High School, was one of the activities of the Footlight Reveler's, Howe's dramatic club. Howe was honored in that two of the four awards given at the festival were presented to Howeites. Susie Stirling was named the best actress, and Jim Harvey was judged the best actor.

Thespians, those in the club who are qualified for membership in the National Dramatic Society, attended the District Thespian Conference last March.

Presiding over the group the past year were Hoyt Miller, president; Dave Lichtenauer, vice-president; and Kathy Wilkens, secretary. Mr. Darrell Gooch sponsors the Revelers.

The plot concerned three spies who try to get Jerry Martin to reveal secret information. They are interrupted in their isolated island hideout when the sheriff and a group of lost feminine campers wander in. Before the night is over the girls capture the spies, revive the sheriff, and patch up a romance between Jerry and the sponsor of the campers.

R. O. T. C. cadet Gary Brandenburg and Student Council members Sue Koertge, Nancy Van-Ardsall, and Frances Pryor "cut" their way into the new wing after the dedication ceremony. Other cadets and council members served as guides at the dedication.

New projects of the Student Council included sponsoring the Golden Rule Week Campaign and the School Spirit Club, meeting with the Noblesville Student Council and promoting a girls' precision drill team, a group of seventeen girls organized to march at games. Council members also served as guides at the dedication of Howe's new wing.

During the holiday season council members decorated Christmas trees in the gym and cafeteria, sponsored a charity drive and a Christmas program. The Council supervised athletic queen elections and assisted at Open House. Pat Scheele won the Council-directed sportsmanship slogan contest. Her entry, "You'll win by a mile if you lose with a smile," was displayed at the basketball sectional tourney.

Each Student Council member represents a home room. The cabinet, composed of the officers, class representatives, and City Student Council delegates, is elected by the council in the first meeting of the year. Council and cabinet meetings alternate weekly.

Student Council sponsors were Mrs. Mildred Loew, Mr. Thomas Stirling, Mrs. Jackie Redmond, and Mr. Forest Witsman.

Schedule

Howe's School Spirit club was organized under the direction of the Student Council to promote all school activities. They sponsored an after-school pep session before the Attucks basketball game.

Members of the club were chosen from these school organizations: Lettermen's Club, Band, TOWER staff, Student Council, Girl's Clubs, and Cheerleaders. Ellen Collier was president, and Mrs. Mary Wilson and Mr. Dick Guyer sponsored the club.

SCHOOL SPIRIT CLUB

ward, Stevens, Toombs, Miller, Spurgeon, Engelking.

Band displays

Performing for Open House school assemblies, and the Community Christmas Sing were regular programs of Howe's band, directed by Mr. Louis McEnderfer. They also played for home basketball games. The band also joined with the orchestra in presenting an Instrumental Music Festival.

Howe was the host school in April for the District Band and Orchestra Contest.

The "pep" band, a small group of band members who volunteered to go to out-of-town football and basketball games to play "fight" songs, also appeared in the P.R.R.

Ruth Jo Rosser, band librarian, operates a music mending machine in the new department library.

SECOND ROW—R. Rosser, Lichtenauer, Johnson,

Allison, N. Rosser, Drum, Knauer, Switzer, Meek.

versatility in programs

The band marched at home football games, the football Jamboree, and the Federal R.O. T.C. inspection. They represented Howe in the Armed Forces Day, Veterans' Day, Halloween, and Zoo parades and at the ground breaking of the eastside hospital.

BACK ROW—Mills, Hunter, Sebree, Corbin, Lucas.

Whitsit, Shaw, Sulgrove, Hale.

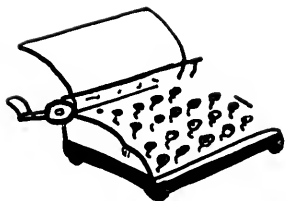

SECOND ROW—Bryant, J. Miller, Rassmann,

FRONT ROW—Staley, Merkel, Rapp, A. Miller, Rosser.

Musicians win awards

The orchestra performed during Open House and joined with the band in presenting the band-orchestra concert. They also provided between-acts music for the Footlight Revelers' production and the senior play. The organization entered the band-orchestra contest held at Howe in April.

Nine entries received first place awards in the district solo and ensemble contests. They are John Miller, French horn; Jack Gilfoy, snare drum; Cheenu Rassmann, flute; Ruth Jo Rosser, violin; Louis Beam, Bob Doyal, Anna Lee Ganser, Jack Gilfoy, and Russ Lash, drum ensemble; Steve Hayward, Bobby Dendy, John Miller, and Norman Vogel, brass quartette; Jerry Switzer, Dave Weber, Dick Wiese, and Jim Beeson, trombone quartette; Steve Hayward, Bobby Dendy, and Wilma Meyer, trumpet trio; and Neale and Ruth Jo Rosser, clarinet duet.

Howe's Boys' Octet was re-organized this year by Mr. Robert Latherow, the director. The boys sang for school assemblies and programs and out-of-school activities.

Octet members are chosen from the choir and boys' glee club.

Vocalists Warble in Eights

Selected from the choir and Choralaires, the girls' octet sings for school and community functions.

Among other activities the octet sang for Kiwanis Club, the Ladies' Auxiliary Medical Society, and the PRR.

Mr. Frank Watkins directs the group, and Lois Sebree is the accompanist.

FRONT ROW—Hardwick, Martin, Dixon, Merkel, Endsley, Vogel, Hayward.

Choristers gain new home

Presenting a Thanksgiving program on television and making three recordings for the Young America Sings radio program were activities of Howe's choir. At Christmas time choir members presented a school assembly program, sang on the circle, and for a Rotary Club luncheon. They presented programs for Open House and other school assemblies.

Climax of the year was the May Music Festival at which the 72 choir members and their director, Mr. Frank Watkins, appeared in brand-new choir robes.

Howe's Student Business Staff plays a very important role in school activities. Business Managers are responsible for the business side of all athletic and non-athletic events. This includes promoting and publicizing Howe's extra-curricular activities, selling and taking tickets and advertising.

A key is given to those who have served at least two years on the staff.

This year's head business managers are Steve Fittz and Ivan Willenberg. The staff is under the supervision of Mr. Paul Klinge.

The Business Staff of the HOWE TOWER is responsible for the business and advertising operations of the newspaper. Staff members write and sell the ads which appear in the TOWER.

Barbara Shortridge was the head of this year's staff.

Ideas and

Publication of our bi-weekly newspaper, the HOWE TOWER, is a cooperative effort of editors, reporters, feature and editorial writers, copyreaders, and sponsor.

Reporting and writing the copy is an important part in "getting out" the TOWER. but the reporters can't write the stories unless someone, usually one of the editors, has thought up the idea for the story. Page editors draw up page layouts and give assignments to the reporters and feature writers.

The staff, selected from Mr. Wayne Mellott's English VJ classes, is appointed to their respective positions by the retiring staff in the spring.

TOWER, HILLTOPPER, and news bureau staff members are proud of their offices in the new wing. The copy desk, designed by Mr. Mellott, is the only one of its kind in the city.

Working hard? Well, you can judge for yourself. Carolyn Devitt, Dotti Cayton, Helen Schulze, Germaine Urrutia, Grace Maze, and Kay VanBlaricum, members of Howe's news bureau, "live it up" in the publications office.

News Bureau members are experienced TOWER staff members chosen for their reporting and writing ability. They serve as school correspondents to city and eastside newspapers.

Carolyn Devitt is correspondent for the Eastern Sun, Grace Maze for the Indianapolis News, Helen Schulze for the Indianapolis Times, Germaine Urrutia for the Indianapolis Star, and Kay VanBlaricum for the Indianapolis Herald.

TOWER editors Ruth Jo Rosser and Korena Rockey attended the I.U. Journalism Institute for two weeks in July, and Bill Ridge and Nancy Grahn represented the TOWER at the Franklin convention of I.H.S.P.A.

Editorial writer Grace Maze received a $100 award from the Freedom Foundation. Her winning editorial, "Private Ownership Really Counts," was published in the May 21, 1954, TOWER.

Each spring since 1941, Howeites have received their HILLTOPPERS. Staff members put much hard work into the yearbook, but when all the work is done, their satisfactions are great and there is pride in a job well done.

Moving from its perch high in the Tower, the '55 HILLTOPPER staff began work on the Brown and Gold Dance and the subscription campaign from headquarters in the new publications office.

The book itself was begun at the Journalism Institute at Indiana University during two weeks of summer vacation. Staff members who attended planned sections and layouts of the dummy that were used in the actual yearbook.

Editors Collier and Simms slave on picture-taking days by lugging Mr. Loudermilk's equipment all around the school.

Howe History

This year's 1955 staff has a tradition of All-American HILLTOPPERS to match. Helping the staff to maintain this standard were Mr. Earl C. Loudermilk, photographer, the Indianapolis Engraving Company, and the Central Publishing Company.

"For We've Been Jolly Good Fellows"

Every girl looks forward to the year she is able to join Hosegi, the club for Howe senior girls. This year members served for the Football Banquet and participated in the all-girl Christmas and Valentine parties.

Officers for the year are Judy Cook, president; Jane Dodd, vice president; Roberta Gerstner, secretary; and Irene Allison, treasurer.

Mrs. Jackie Redmond is the sponsor.

Hosegi officers Jane Dodd, Judy Cook, Irene Allison, and Roberta Gerstner call a speaker for their next meeting.

Highlight of the year for Vihota, the junior girls' club, is the crowning of the Violet Queen to reign at the May Pageant. Full of fun, as parties always are, were their Madhatter's Ball and the all-girl Christmas party.

Speakers and panel discussions also rate high as girls' club programs. Officers are Pat Scheele, president; Carol Shogren, vice president; Carol Roesener, secretary; and Kathy Wilkins, treasurer.

Discussions go to La Nina "heads"

LaNina is the sophomore girls' club. They enjoyed panel discussions from Beta and Senior Hi-Y, parties with the other girls' clubs, and a demonstration on the latest hair styles.

Officers for the year are Yolanda Parker, president; Mara Isaks, vice president; and Luora Langley, secretary. Miss Jerry Motley is their sponsor.

Getting together for a little chat are LaNina officers Luora Langley, Joan Reed, Yolanda Parker, and Mara Isaks.

Selofra freshman girls have many club activities to keep them occupied. Among them were a welcome party for January freshmen, and participation in the all-girls' Christmas party and a demonstration on hair styling.

Officers are Judy Fox, president; Judy Garland, vice president; Sally Mabel, secretary; and Pat Thompson, treasurer. Miss Ellen O'Drain is the sponsor.

P.S.

Love with Dick!

At the start of the year, the upperclassmen were as bewildered as the freshmen usually are for the new wing presented new problems of finding room numbers and classes. Soon the sophisticated sophomores, juniors and seniors gloated over their new-found confidence, and the faculty finally settled everyone down to the normal routine of school life.

Mr. Charles M. Sharp is caught in a characteristic pose giving a memo to his secretary.

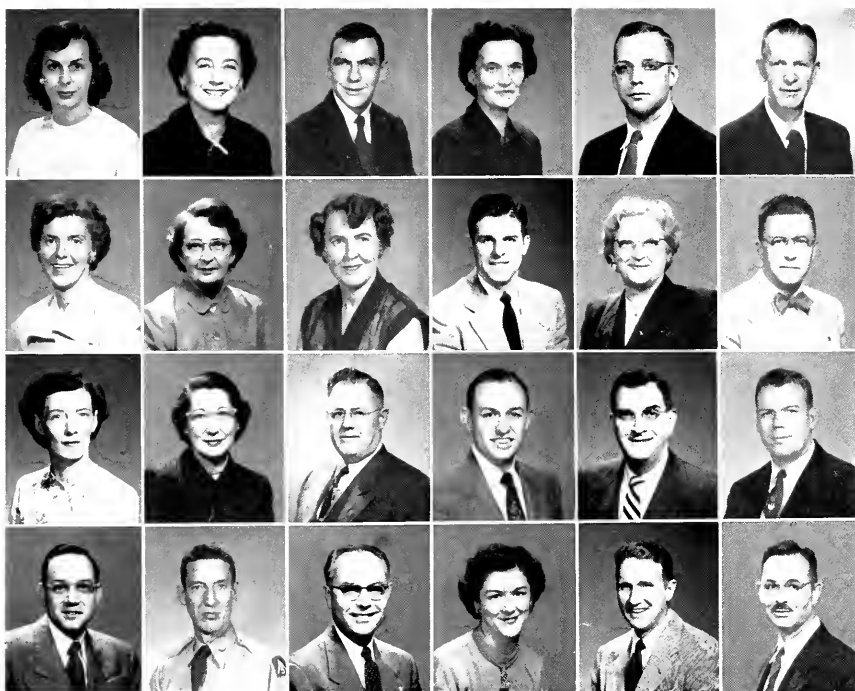

The well-liked Mr. Sharp is Howe's first and only principal. Howeites feel they are fortunate to have had such a fine principal for seventeen years.

Seniors move ahead

In 1951 the class of '55 entered the gym as freshmen and took their places on the hard bleachers. Now, after four years of anticipation, they have reached senior homeroom and the coveted front chairs in assembly.

With plans now made for college and work, the class of '55 leaves Howe High School with warm memories of the hard work and good times they have had here and the feeling that they have accomplished the goal of leaving Howe the better for their having been here.

Am... your seat
 sweet gal & a wonderful class
 with hope will always be friends. Love
 Billy
 Jack

Aww... you're a wonderful gal, and I wish
 as much as I can you'll really hope on my list. I've been wondering how you were friends. I would
 of course!
 Pauline

Representing the class of '55, the senior officers stepped into their new roles last fall—but only after days of continuous balloting by the class. Officer potentials were so numerous that the seniors could not decide without considerable deliberation who their officers were to be.

Jack Austin, president, opened the first class meeting of '55 with the traditional gavel. Gordon Jones, president of Howe's first graduating class in 1941, presented Howe with a gavel which had been in his family for over one hundred years. Each year the gavel is presented to the new class president and his name is added to the list kept in the gavel box of previous presidents.

Senior activities keep the seniors busy from September to June. One of the first is electing class officers. Under their leadership, class activities begin to function smoothly.

Two big days for all seniors are the annual winter and spring parties, held after school in the gym.

College Day provides an opportunity for seniors to hear various college representatives, which helps them to choose the colleges they wish to attend.

Seniors have a chance to display their dramatic talents when the class play is presented. "The Little Dog Laughed" was the production this year.

Vespers, commencement, and the senior prom round out the class calendar. The class of '55 unveiled a Howe "first" with "Mr. and Miss Senior" reigning over the prom, which followed commencement.

One of my best friends. you (RESERVED FOR RITA) are the sweetest and cutest girl I know. We sure have fun in such a short time we have. I. wouldn't want you different for the world. You sure have a lot of a boyfriend that you make a darling couple. I hope we can double soon. We sure have lots and lots of fun. Those two are crazy together. I don't think I would HOWE'S INSIDE STORY has presented the record of another school year—a time filled with activities and events. The dedication of the new wing during this seventeenth year climaxed a long wait for much-needed classroom space. It featured quarters for the industrial arts department and music departments, publications office and the new ROTC unit.

Along with classes and homework, sports and extra-curricular activities played a big role in our school life. Our athletic season kicked off with the annual Football jamboree at Butler Stadium. A few weeks later followed the Brown and Gold Dance in the Howe gym. Soon basketball games came and Christmas vacation was just around the corner. Highlights of the spring season were the Pleasant Run Revue, May Pageant, and, of course, our commencement exercises. Other events have been club parties, essay and poster contests, and musical and dramatic productions.

Even though a lot of this time is occupied with studying, the average Howeite can make the honor roll and also be active in various clubs, committees, and athletics. These people are the ones who are making our school the better for their having been here. This spirit is what makes and keeps Howe the successful school that it is.

Howe's Inside Story for 1955 closes with the journalistic symbol of 30.

Ann,
Gee, I'm so glad you're in our club - LAMS!
We're really proud to have you for a club
sister and I hope you'll always have the best of luck and happiness all through your life. You sure deserve it, hon! You're just the cutest little gal and your personality sure fits your looks. Loads of love,

Ann,

There is so much I want to say but will save the space for others too.
I can really say you are the sweetest, and nicest girls I know. I'm so glad I got to know you as well as I do. Best of everything to you & Dick. Hope everything comes the way you want it. Good Luck and may God always bless you.

Love
Jerris

Ann,

One of the sweetest and nicest and funniest I've got. Wishes of luck in the future at Home and with Dick!

Love.
